RED MENACE.

NOW SPREADS TO WUCHOW.

PAKHOI PLOT.

The Reds in Canton are making every effort to extend their control to other districts, reports reaching us to-day of developments which have occurred in this connection both at Wuchow and at Pakhoi. Russian officers have been sent to the former port, which is now said to be under Red control; but at Pakhoi a Red plot has been unearthed and has resulted in five spies being shot.

THE PAKHOI PLOT.

GENERAL SHOT FOR TREACHERY.

Accused of being a spy on behalf of the Canton Reds, Brigadier General Tang Seng-suen, right-hand man of General Tang Poon-yan, Tapan of Southern Kwangtung, is stated to have been executed by shooting at Pakhoi, according to news to hand to-day.

The report says that General Tang Seng-suen received a bribe of $100,000 from the Canton Reds to assassinate General Tang Poon-yan and then to compel other officers to join the cause of the Reds. One of Tang Poon-yan's bodyguards is said to have disclosed the conspiracy, with the result that four alleged spies of the Canton Reds were arrested and court-martialed. All are said to have confessed that they were Cadets sent from Canton by General Chang Kai-shek to start a revolution, and they were all ordered to be shot.

Subsequently, General Tang Seng-suen was placed under arrest and accused of treachery and of being a spy. He also was found guilty and was executed by being shot.

WUCHOW NOW "RED."

ARRIVAL OF RUSSIANS.

With regard to the situation in Wuchow, it is reported that, following the securing of control by the Reds, the administration has been converted into a so-called Municipality governed by an oligarchy of which General Li Chung-yan, Tapan of Kwangsi, is the Chairman.

It appears that about a week ago, General Li requested General Chang Kai-shek to send eight Russian military experts to Wuchow in order to reorganise his troops. The request was promptly complied with, and Russian officers are now to be seen freely moving about the streets.

Students are parading and haranguing the people to boycott British goods, and these have combined with the strikers in the work of searching all imported merchandise. British goods on being discovered are not only confiscated, but their owners are heavily fined. No foodstuffs are allowed to be exported to Hongkong or Macao.

Navigation between Wuchow and Canton is not, however, suspended, there being about ten boats sailing between the two ports. Every boat leaving Canton is usually full of passengers, the people realising that they are heavily taxed in Canton and that Wuchow is a cheaper place in which to live.

A further report says that General Li Chai-sum, of the Shuihung district, has been ordered by the Red Government to succeed General Liang Hung-kai as commander of the First Division at Kongmoon, and that he has already left to take up his position.

Among the passengers who left by the P. & O. liner Narkunda were Miss H. Irving, Mrs. H. K. Frouser, Mrs. C. P. Tompkins, Miss Updell, Mr. H. E. Trenerry, and Mrs. H. Maccock.

NOTED VISITOR.

JAPANESE AMBASSADOR ENTERTAINED.

Yesterday, His Excellency the Governor entertained to luncheon His Excellency Baron Hayashi, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain.

Among those present were H. E. Vice Admiral Sir Edwyn Alexander Sinclair, H. E. Major General C. C. Luard, His Honour Sir Henry Gollan, the Hon. Sir Claud Severn, Mr. Murakami (Japanese Consul General), Hon. Mr. Mosser, Hon. Mr. Creasy, Hon. Sir Henry Pollock, Hon. Mr. Holyoak, Hon. Mr. Lang, Captain Lake, R. N., Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, Mr. Abe, Mr. Kawaguchi, Mr. Arima, Mr. Okubo, Mr. Tautsumi, Lieut. Dan-gerfeld, R. N., and Captain Johnston.

Baron Hayashi later in the day resumed his journey to Japan aboard the s.s. Fushimi Maru.

ANOTHER STRIKE.

MOZAMBIQUE COMMERCE INTERRUPTED.

Boira, Sept. 7th.
A strike of the employees of the Mozambique Company for improved conditions affects the Post Office, the Customs and other services and threatens to bring all commerce activity to a standstill. Fifteen ships are lying idle in port and the lighting services of the town are suspended. No mails are being received or dispatched. Rhodesia may be seriously affected if the strike is prolonged. —Reuter.

MOTOR COLLISION.

STUBBS ROAD INCIDENT.

A collision occurred on Stubbs Road between a motor-lobby belonging to the Sanitary Department and a private motor car, yesterday.

The accident resulted when the driver of the Sanitary Department lorry failed to notice the approach of the car in attempting to pass another lorry. In the collision one of the front mudguards of the car was buckled, but no-one was injured.

HONAM'S SERVICE.

SECOND TRIP WITHOUT INCIDENT.

There was no untoward incident in the second trip of the s.s. Honam to Canton on Saturday. The vessel took up about 400 Chinese passengers, anchoring in the stream off Shamoon, and returned yesterday with 35 Chinese passengers and 65 bales of silk. She also brought the two Hongkong journalists who had been imprisoned by strike leaders. The Honam passed six steamers proceeding to Whampoa, two Norwegian, one Chinese, a Japanese collier, a French vessel, and one believed to be German but showing no flag.

Amongst the passengers who came down by the Honam were thirty-five Chinese passengers. Twenty of these were women, of the better classes, whilst the remainder were men whose mission appears to be connected with business. Enquiries amongst the latter disclosed the information that they possessed special permits from the Strikers' Committee to come to Hongkong.

SHIPPING SITUATION.

WEEK-END ARRIVALS.

During the week-end, the total arrivals were 24 and the total departures of ocean-going boats were 21. At nine o'clock this morning there were 95 vessels in port, of which number 51 were British.

The interesting arrivals over the week-end were two large Japanese coal boats, carrying 2,618 tons and 3,700 tons of coal respectively. The s.s. Tilibot brought in a very heavy cargo amounting to 2,484 tons.

BOXER IN TROUBLE.

USED FISTS AT WRONG MOMENT.

COURT MARTIALED THIS MORNING.

Pte. Barber, of the East Surrey Regiment, is a fairly good boxer, but he recently endeavoured to demonstrate his ability at the wrong time and place, and, as a result, was charged before a District Court Martial at Murray Barracks this morning with striking an N.C.O.

Major E. S. Halford, R.A., presided and the members were Capt. E. Montenegro, East Surreys, and Lieut. Wright-Neville, of the Punjab.

Lieut. A. E. Cottam, M.C., prosecuted and Capt. G. A. Drake-Brockman appeared as "prisoner's friend."

Lance-Corpl. Doubtfire, who was police N.C.O. on duty at Wellington Barracks on the evening of August 22nd, described his stopping of the accused, who was walking towards the gate in walking-out order. He asked accused where he was going and was told "for a walk." Pte. Barber had no pass and was told that he would be placed under open arrest. He ordered the accused to return to his barrack room and Barber argued as to his right to place him under arrest. Witness followed accused to the barrack room, reported that he had placed accused under arrest and heard him say "It seems to be a pastime in this battalion placing blokes under arrest on charges." Witness told him that he could explain it all to his company commander and Barber replied that he could explain it to the King.

Witness left the barrack room, but as he was passing the window behind accused's bed, Barber said "That's about all you blokes can do—put charges in." With the intention of placing him under close arrest, witness returned to the room and ordered Barber to put on his boots. Accused refused to do so and flew at him and struck him in the face with his fist.

Cross-examined:—Accused was in the barrack gates when accused. He would say that accused was definitely trying to get out of barracks.

Capt. Drake-Brockman:—Had he actually committed a military offence?—Yes, it is irregular for men to loiter about the gates after roll-call.

"Have you ever known a man charged with loitering?—Yes, he would be charged with irregular conduct."

Is it not usual to order him back to his room without putting him under arrest?—In these circumstances, no.

What were the special circumstances?—He had no pass and he said he was going for a walk.

Pte. Moore, who accompanied the first witness, said that Pte. Barber when asked where he was going replied that he was going to look for his dog. He corroborated L/C Doubtfire in other particulars.

Pte. Barber, giving evidence, said that he was taking his dog for a final run before turning in when it ran away in chase of another dog. He was stopped by the police N.C.O. and told him he was taking the dog for a walk. He was placed under open arrest. He said that he had no intention of leaving barracks, but was told not to argue. He repeated this in the barrack room and after Doubtfire had left he said to a friend: "It's the pass-word in this battalion to put fellows on charge for nothing whatever." The corporal heard it and returned and stood over him in a threatening attitude. Doubtfire stood with one hand on his hips and the other wagged a cane at him. He provoked him so much that he lost his temper and endeavoured to strike the N.C.O. He realised in time and did not actually strike a blow.

HONGKONG OUTLOOK.

A READER'S OPINIONS.

We have received the following letter for publication:

Sir,—With regard to the resumption of service by the s.s. Honam, it had been generally surmised that the vessel would be running her normal trip, i.e., from wharf to wharf, but in point of fact it turns out that she has moored in the man-of-war anchorage off Shamoon. That, in my opinion, is a mistake. The difficulties in going alongside the wharf at Canton are not insuperable. Are the public aware that the wharves of the Steamboat Company and Messrs. Butterfield Swire are indisputably British property, are in the hands of the strikers, who are using them as restaurants, etc.? What steps, one wonders, have been taken to remove these trespassers?

Optimists seem to think that the anti-Red majority will prove too much for the Bolsheviks in Canton in the long run, but, even assuming that the present Reds are eventually dispersed, who will come next? Possibly, the "moderate" Kuomintang, consisting of such bleached Reds as C. C. Wu and Sun Fo. In that event, the boycott against us will not cease.

There are only two solutions—either that Peking should send down an expedition to assume charge, or that we should clean up Canton ourselves. I do not remember having seen any protest made to Peking, putting it up to them to assume control of Kwangtung. It is distinctly hard on us in the South to have to wait, or we can hold out so long, until the slow and ponderous diplomatic machine gets to work.

Matters up North seem to have greatly improved, but people up there seem greatly exercised regarding the intervention policy suggested by the recent mass meeting here. After all said and done, though, we are suffering from the actions of Shanghai, who quite rightly defended their rights against the attacks by lawless Chinese elements. Are we not, therefore, entitled to defend ourselves against the action of an unrecognised rebel Government at Canton, who have rendered null and void all Treaties in an endeavour to sap the life-blood of the Colony and destroy British trade generally in South China? Shanghai does not see eye to eye with us here. Their troubles are practically over, but the same cannot be said of us in the South.

I notice that whenever a well-wisher of ours gets up in Parliament, he is told that Peking will see to the matter, but I do not think that I am wrong in saying that the majority of people here have very little confidence in the capabilities of our representative there in dealing with our plight. At any rate, people here are getting very bitter about the treatment meted out to us. Apparently, all that we have to do in Hongkong is to be good boys and pay our taxes, in the spending of which we have no deciding voice.—Yours, etc., so much that he lost his temper and endeavoured to strike the N.C.O. He realised in time and did not actually strike a blow.

Lieut. Cottam said that accused had been in the army for three years and 71 days. During that time he had been charged, once with neglect of duty and once with absence.

Capt. Drake-Brockman said that accused was in his company. He was an efficient and clean soldier. He had been an officer's servant on his recommendation. He had had no trouble with him, though he had noticed that accused was short of temper and required tactful handling.

The accused was found guilty and sentence will be promulgated in due course.

M. Y. SAN COMPANY.

GOES INTO LIQUIDATION.

SALE OF PROPERTY TO-DAY.

As we reported recently, a situation of considerable difficulty is confronting an old-established Chinese concern, Messrs. M. Y. San and Company, which, a week ago, convened a meeting of shareholders to consider, for the second time, a resolution for the voluntary winding-up of the company, in view of the inability of the directors to cope with a problem indirectly produced by the tightness of the money market.

Readers will remember that a few months ago, when the seriousness of the situation was first felt by the Directorate, a meeting was held at which the assent of the shareholders was secured to a special arrangement being put into operation whereby the financial position would "be given time to readjust itself with the co-operation and goodwill of the depositors."

The strike then intervened and operated against the efforts of the officials to clear off a mortgage which had been raised on the extensive properties of the Company. The amount of this is stated to be in the neighbourhood of $470,000, and this has been foreclosed by the merchant to whom the mortgage had been transferred. Accordingly instructions have been given to Mr. E. V. M. R. de Souza to auction the property this afternoon, this including the premises which the Company is occupying as shops, and dwelling-houses situated in the vicinity.

The following houses will be put up for sale: Nos. 92, 94, 96, 98, 100, 102 and 104 Queen's Road Central; Nos. 2, 4 and 6 Cochrane Street; Nos. 43, 45, 47 and 49 Stanley Street. The upset price is not stated, but the value of the property is assessed at over a million dollars.

It is learned as a result of enquiries at the offices of Messrs. M. Y. San and Company, that the scheme for raising funds by a percentage subscription from shareholders has not been a success, and accordingly the Company is going into liquidation. For this purpose the affairs of the Company have been put into the hands of three liquidators, Messrs. Lau Yuk-wan, Wong Shu-leung and Ng Wai-chee.

FOOTBALL.

FOWLER CUP FINAL.

The re-play final tie of the Fowler Football Cup is to be played on the Murray Barracks Football Ground on Wednesday, 9th inst.; kick-off at 5 p.m. The result of the match played on Thursday last was 1 goal each. The teams concerned are 2 Platoon and 11 Platoon.

A Chinese, who was arrested prior to boarding a train at the Kowloon-Canton Railway with eleven letters in his possession, failed to appear at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning and forfeited his bail of $25.

That severe punishment will in future be inflicted on persons illegally importing arms was demonstrated by the Singapore District Judge on Aug. 28th, when three Cantonese firemen on board the steamer Bon Lomond were convicted for an offence of this character and were sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment and will receive ten strokes of the "cat," each. This case was a sequel to the seizure of seventeen revolvers of the long-barrelled type and 1,200 rounds of ammunition, which were discovered aboard the Ben Lomond by police officers.

INTERPORT BOWLS.

SHANGHAI TO SEND TEAM.

Local bowlers will be gratified to hear that there is every prospect of Shanghai sending down an interport team in the near future to try conclusions with Hongkong, for over the week-end Mr. A. Macfarlane, the Hon. Secretary of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association, has received a telegram from the North regarding Hongkong's invitation to Shanghai to engage in a match here. The telegram states:—

"Conditions better. Do you still wish Shanghai to send Interport bowls team?" To this, a reply in the affirmative has been sent. It will be recalled that as far back as May last, the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association sent an invitation to Shanghai, it being the latter's year to come down to Hongkong, but that shortly afterwards trouble broke out in the North, with the result that no decision could be come to on the point, the matter being left over for a time. Apparently, however, conditions have now so far improved that Shanghai is quite prepared to send down a team, the visit of which will be keenly looked forward to by local bowlers.

So far nothing definite has been decided regarding the date, venue or the composition of the Hongkong team, although the latter will be selected by a special sub-committee.

Last year, Hongkong sent a team North, but suffered a reverse, although on the occasion of Shanghai's last visit to Hongkong the local team won the interport game, which was played on the Kowloon Bowling Green Club's ground.

BLOCKADE WEAKENS.

MORE FOODSTUFFS COMING.

Lately there has been perceptible slackening in picket activities at points on the border and other places, for to-day we have to report that food-stuffs and vegetables are coming more regularly into the Colony through such places as Macao (the outlet for Heungshan market produce), Sha U Chung, Namtau, etc. Workers are also returning through these outlets.

The situation appears to be more promising in so far as the blockade exercised against this Colony is concerned.

LOCAL VOCALIST.

CONCERT AT CLUB LUSITANO.

Miss Maria Margarida Gomes, the promising young Portuguese singer, who has established a local reputation since her first appearance before a Hongkong audience recently, figured conspicuously in another concert which was given at the Club Lusitano on Saturday night. In a programme which could not have been better selected if the object was to bring out the full possibilities of an early talent, Miss Gomes sang with great ability, demonstrating a richness of inflexion and tone which we feel sure could be developed with more experience and training. In the Aria de Muzetta from "Boheme" she instantly captivated the audience, and was entirely successful in the Canto "Ardor Gli Incensi" from "Lucia di Lammermoor." This last was a particularly difficult item, and proved a great test on Miss Gomes' capability, but the young artiste rose splendidly to the occasion, and the applause which ensued was unstinted and well-deserved.

A word of praise is also due to the other two singers of the evening, Messrs. Ennes and G. D'Aquino, who acquitted themselves well, and to the accompanists, Miss Aurora Baptista and Mr. Elizio Gualdi.

Miss Gomes is again appearing in another concert which is being held at the same Club this afternoon at 5 o'clock.

LI FOOK-LUM.

SAID TO BE UNDER DETENTION.

RUSSIAN SUCCESSOR.

Reports reach us from Canton suggesting that General Li Fook-lum, who until recently was in command of the troops on Honam Island, has been placed under detention by the Reds.

It is stated that General Li was invited by General Chang Kai-shek to attend a military conference on Saturday in order to discuss the mobilising of troops on the West River. At first, General Li endeavoured to be excused from attending, fearing that the real nature of the conference had not been disclosed, but General Chang was not to be trifled with and accordingly sent his A. D. C. to renew the invitation, couching its terms in such a way that would permit of no refusal.

Subsequently, General Li proceeded to the conference, during which he was appointed Assistant Garrison Commissioner of Canton, being ordered to take up his new post immediately at the headquarters in the Agricultural Experimental Station. This is regarded as a polite way of intimating that General Li is henceforth to be detained under surveillance.

General Li has also been requested, the report says, to inform his Chief of Staff of his new appointment, and to transfer the Honam command to General Chang Kai-shek. It is further stated that a Russian officer will be appointed to succeed General Li on Honam Island.

SEAMEN GAOLED.

REFUSAL TO OBEY ORDERS.

Two seamen, of the s.s. Yatshing, of the Indo-China Steam Navigation Company, were charged before the Marine Magistrate (Lieut.-Com. G. F. Hole, R.N.) this morning with disobeying the orders of the Chief Officer, when in Hongkong harbour on September 3rd.

The accused pleaded not guilty. It was stated by the Master, Capt. C. R. More, that on September 3rd, at 9 a.m. the men were brought to him by the Chief Officer for refusing to turn to that morning. The men's excuse was that they had refused because the Chief Officer was always fighting them. Witness then asked the boys if that allegation were true and he said that he had never seen the Chief Officer strike the men.

Mr. J. C. Arnott, the Chief Officer, corroborated the Captain's evidence. The defence pleaded that the accused was that they were both sick that morning. They had engaged substitutes, but the Chief Officer refused to allow the substitutes to work.

His Worship convicted, and sentenced each man to two weeks' hard labour and, in addition, fined them two days' pay, the money to go towards partly defraying the expenses of their keep whilst in prison.

Before Mr. Justice Deane in the Singapore Supreme Court on Aug. 29th, the Captain of the steamer Sarvistan, appealed against a fine of $3,000 imposed by the District Judge in connection with the seizure of a large quantity of opium on board the vessel at Singapore. Dismissing the appeal, His Lordship said: "I have not the slightest doubt that the captain knew all about this smuggling. I should not have the slightest hesitation in holding that if I were a magistrate, and I would fine him $5,000."

HONGKONG JOURNALISTS.

IMPRISONED BY CANTON STRIKERS.

CHAINED IN CELL FOR SEVENTEEN HOURS.

Two British journalists from Hongkong—Mr. J. S. Cox, of the Hongkong Daily Press and Mr. F. Oliver, of the South China Morning Post—who went up to Canton by the s.s. Honam on Thursday, had an intensely unpleasant experience whilst in the city. They were followed through the streets by a huge crowd of Chinese strikers and later imprisoned for seventeen hours in a cell, shackled in chains, only being released after intervention by the British consular authorities. The story of their experiences is to-day told in the S. C. M. Post by Mr. Oliver as follows:

The ship arrived at 3.45 and within the next quarter of an hour we were landed on Shamen by a Customs launch. We spent two hours there, making enquiries as to cabling facilities, and means of reaching Canton and returning to Shamen. The difficulties were explained to us but our obvious duty appeared to be to get a cable off and we were told pretty authoritatively that in daylight we would not be molested. A motor boat landed us at 6.30 p.m. at Customs wharf, promising to return at 7.30.

In Canton.

On the Bund a dozen rickshaws clamoured to be hired and we were generally received in friendly fashion. We rode down the Bund which had every appearance of normal business.

We reached the Chinese Y.M.C.A. and went in to ask for information. An English speaking Chinese wrote in Chinese the address of the cable office. Armed with this we drove back to the Post Office and there hired a coolie to guide us down the narrow streets of Sai-kwan. There we were treated to friendly glances and were directed by a well-to-do Chinese who spoke English. Our cables were handed in and we were promised that they would go without fail. Our coolie conducted us back the way we had gone and we got back to Customs Wharf at 8.15. All the time we had been treated well and no possibility of trouble entered our heads at all. The promised motor boat was not there which, as we were 45 minutes late, was not to be wondered at. We imagined the owner thought we had got a boat back to the s.s. Honam.

At the English Bridge.

Outside on the Bund we tried to get a sampan but failed, all the boat people being afraid to take us either to the s.s. Honam or to the Shamen.

The question of returning then began to assume a serious aspect. We walked along, Sha Ki to the English bridge and hailed the other side. We explained, through the darkness, our position and asked to be allowed to risk the barbed wire entanglements and climb along. This was told was impossible and a voice with a Naval flavour informed us of the absolute impossibility of unwinding approximately five miles of barbed wire and that a boat was the only way of getting back.

A False Friend.

Another visit to the Bund at the Customs Wharf failed to produce a boat and at the suggestion of my friend we were about to go to the Hotel Asia to get a boat or to spend the night when a Chinese in European clothes and speaking a little English asked what we required. We briefly explained and he offered assistance. A crowd collected as only Chinese crowds can do. Asked if we had passes from the Chinese authorities to be there we said no and politely asked if there were any authorities to get one from and where the office was. He promised to take us and said that, having done so, we could get a motor boat back to Shamen without difficulty.

Crowd Turns Nasty.

He requested us to step into an adjacent salt fish shop and there a number of Chinese workers wearing badges of some description appeared, most of them armed with ancient carbines. Things began to look serious particularly as a huge crowd outside clamoured for admission and had to be threatened with the ancient armory but one does not question authority when it is well armed.

It was thought we were armed and, one filthy criminal-looking individual began to run over my person. A sharp push sent him flying and for a second or so it looked as if I asked for trouble. I let the only semi-decent looking person there see I was unarmed and this fact was communicated to the crowd outside. We were in the hands of the strikers although we were then unaware of it.

The Bund Procession.

At 10 p.m. after an uncomfortable hour in the fish shop, we were put into rickshaws and told we were going to Tung Yin to get passports, a thing we believed to be true.

As the name implies Tung Yin is at the easternmost part of the city and that ride along the Bund, in brilliant moonlight will be one not easily forgotten. Anything more like a ride to the gallows in the tumblers would be hard to imagine. Two lantern bearers proceeded on demanding free passage and armed men accompanied us on either side. About our little cavalcade surged a tremendous multitude of Chinese, a mob which gathered hundreds more to itself at every street corner.

Cesticulating, brandishing sticks and shouting they made constant attempts to surround us and their intentions were only too obvious.

The Strike Guard.

Our armed guards worked strenuously and effectively, to keep them back. Everyone gave way to us, policemen, soldiers and all traffic. The overpowering, smothering force of a huge crowd swept us forward as flotsam on the crest of a wave. How the crowd was prevented from carrying out its intention of grievously harming us we shall never know but we do know that the armed guards worked like trojans to preserve our skins.

This ghastly ride, at walking pace, lasted for 45 minutes but one had enough detachment to notice the glorious night and the line of Chinese gunboats in the river, headed by the Wing Fung. At the bridge leading out of the city we turned to the left and presently came to a big headquarters, built of matched material.

Scene at Tung Yin.

Ushered in we found ourselves still surrounded by uneducated looking people of the coolie class and obviously no official was there. A dozen or a score of them appeared to have equal authority. There was much arguing and writing of documents. We gave up hope of that pass and merely waited patiently for developments.

Beseiged in a Matched.

Outside the building the crowd surged, calling for something that boded only ill for us. Ugly faces appeared at crevices all round the place and I suppose we heard more oaths and flowery epithets than ever before in our lives. It was well for our tempers that we understood not a word. The whole of the time we were in captivity we had constantly to guard ourselves by holding in justifiable anger—as one indignity was heaped upon another.

The writing of documents ceased and we were escorted from one building to another. In the shadows of the Tung Yin garden odd figures dodged in and out in endeavours to get near us but we were ushered into the other building untouched. There a dozen of our captors with half a dozen words of English endeavoured to question us. Asked who and what we were and how and why we visited Canton we explained and at this juncture I did a foolish thing. I wrote my name and address in Chinese characters, about all I know of the Chinese language. After that no one would believe I couldn't speak it and this may have led to some of the rough treatment we received.

The Rabble's Demands.

There was much talk of a "charge" against us, we being told we were up there as spies, to find out what we could. We were told we should be taken to the Police Station and we protested in vain that we were good men and anxious to do no harm.

But our captors' aims were defeated, on the point by the still clamouring crowd outside. Asking when we were going we were told it was impossible for some time because the crowd wanted to harm us. So there we sat on a bed, while a dozen or so of the famous or infamous Whampoa Cadets filed in and surrounded us with fixed bayonets.

Efforts to Break In.

The mob made many efforts to break in but were repulsed. On two occasions a whistle demanded silence while someone addressed the mob in the fashion of Antony. These orations had an effect for a time but the clamouring grew louder and it was evident they were demanding our blood.

It was at this point that the chains made their appearance. About ten feet long, heavy, and with a huge lock of Chinese pattern these were clamped about our necks almost as tight as one wears a collar but, be it believed, with much less comfort.

The impulse to resist to the uttermost was strong and had to be fought with all our strength. The reason for holding us was made obvious. We were in the hands of anti-foreign strikers and those who spoke English did not fail to tell us why the mob outside were clamouring for us. We were briefly told they all remembered that over 100 Chinese were killed on Sha Ki and were angry.

Put in Jail.

My friend had a watch and noticed that this was at 12.30 a.m. Apparently the crowd were told of what was done for a few minutes later we were ordered to march. Each with a jailer holding our chains we passed out through a lane of Cadets drawing as much attention as a Lord mayor on November 9th but with a little less dignity. Holding rifles with fixed bayonets horizontally the Cadets forced back the maddened crowd which gesticulated in threatening manner as, like condemned murderers, we were marched to our prison.

We passed in. Inside the building had been built three bamboo cages, each of which was full of Chinese prisoners. We were pushed into the middle one in which were fourteen prisoners so that we made altogether sixteen people in a space precisely ten feet by fifteen. One electric light glimmered in a corner. The floor was covered with rattan mats and we wearily sank on the few square feet of space cleared for us.

Our Fellow Prisoners.

There was a hopelessness about the situation too deep for words but we brightened considerably when one prisoner addressed us in English. The guards ordered no talking but lying back I could converse with him in quiet tones. He said he and his fellow prisoners were good men; that they had been caught at Shumchun after walking from Canton and had been incarcerated in that filthy stench-ridden prison for more than a month. He said he himself used to work for Shewan Tomes and for Dodwell's but that was some time ago. In the cell with us were two of the painters who were kidnapped while painting the bridge at Shumchun some weeks ago.

Kill the Foreigners.

All this time the crowd clustered round the prison and our fellow prisoner was able to translate their clamouring. Their one cry was "kill the foreigners" to which the reinforced guard replied "You cannot while we are here." This noise was night-long.

There is comradeship between prisoners whether innocent or guilty and our fellows at once came forward with mats to lie on and empty tins on which to place our heads. There was a diversion when our captors came in and demanded all our money. Between us we had $200 and this was carefully counted and we were made to write on papers our names and the amount in our possession. To our utter surprise the money was handed back to us.

Uncertain Fate.

The uncertainty of our fate was such that we determined not to sleep but as time wore on I found I could not resist and abandoned myself to a few hours rest. Daylight was never more welcome although it only came through a hole in the top of the wall about a square foot in size.

We had had no food since tiffin the previous day and at 10 a.m. on Friday when the prisoner's meal came in we found we could not touch it. We asked for water and at 10.30 a saucer full with two basins to drink from appeared. It was then about fourteen hours since we were captured. Later in morning our jailors became worried at our refusing food and asked what we wanted, offering to buy food, if we would give them money. I produced a dollar note and in one course four eggs appeared alone. We swallowed them somehow and then appeared a small packet of biscuits, a bunch of bananas and two bottles of sarsaparilla—lepid. We did our best with this supply but handed on the bottles of drink to our fellow prisoners.

That morning the prison doctor came in and examined all who were sick and later sent in their medicines—western medicine at that. We were well and declined his proffered ministrations.

Escape Possibilities.

As we lay in the stifling atmosphere with chains chafing our necks and wearing us down we discussed the possibilities of escape. We conjectured the possibilities of the Shamen authorities' hearing of our arrest and decided that at least they must know something was wrong by Friday morning. And so as patiently and cheerfully as possible we lay awaiting fate.

Only those who have spent a few hours in chains can guess at the discomfort. We constantly turned over and the clanking of chains we made called forth shrieks of laughter from those outside while faces peeping through a chink in the wall called out "Englishmen" and followed it with a few choice oaths of Oriental manufacture.

We had an admirable joke between us to continually renew our interest in whatever befell us.

Our sense of duty in getting cables back to our respective papers was the cause of our arrest. It was for that we entered what has for months been a forbidden city. In that cable we had said, "Honam arrived three thirty unincidents." The last word is the universally known pressman's expression for the fact that the affair being reported happened without untoward incident.

Interest never failed to arouse itself when one called across to the other "Honam arrived unincidents." We were getting incident enough.

A Surprise.

The hotter hours of the day dragged painfully on and we were just commencing ourselves to another night in our filthy cell when we had a series of surprises.

First an official appeared and returned to me the dollar I had given him for food earlier in the day. It seemed queer and suspicious. Then at 5.15 p.m. three persons entered the cell and without a word our chains were removed and taken away. We looked at each other and grinned. Just as we were beginning to enjoy the sense of freedom of movement three apparently important personages entered. One was an officer and the one with most authority a short, thin civilian who spoke excellent English. He asked us who we were, where we were from and requested us to follow him. Being suspicious we declined until we knew where we were going. He declined to say but promised protection. It would have been hard to find a worse place in which to stay than Tung Yin and so we went. The Cadets presented arms in a fashion which showed our escort was of some importance.

At Cadet Headquarters.

Outside was a car and to breathe the clean air was an indescribable delight. A short run and we arrived at a place which was evidently the yamen of someone of standing. We were taken to a small room, plainly furnished, and drinks were served. The change was tremendous. In prison we had been refused water to wash, but here there were water and towels and we simply went ahead with them.

The man who had rescued us from the prison asked for our story, which we readily gave. He apologised for the treatment we had received and said it was the ignorant undisciplined mob that had taken us (a fact of which we were only too well aware). He expressed the utmost regret that he apologised for the misdemeanours of our captors pleading their ignorance of the fact that we were "gentlemen". He said his headquarters were unaware of our capture until Friday morning and that he had taken all measures possible to release us. He had also written to the Consul General at Shamen stating we could be handed over so soon as they sent a representative to escort us.

HONGKONG JOURNALISTS.

This was the best possible news and we had visions of a hot bath, a shave and a shedding of filthy clothes on Shameen that evening.

Captive Another Night.

But hours passed and no word came until 9 p.m., when the messenger returned and said he had delivered the note but had not waited for a reply. Nothing could have been more disappointing for the note had not mentioned our whereabouts. At our request a wireless message was sent out to the Consul General and the Senior Naval Officer which we later learned was picked up by all war vessels in port. We also learned that the note had been received at 8 p.m.

At 9 o'clock we begged to be given a motor boat, stating we would risk being shot at from Shameen and that we would sign a paper saying we took the responsibility. Regret was expressed that this could not be done. The mob was angry and they dare not release us until a representative from Shameen arrived.

Thus we resigned ourselves to another night in captivity. Food was given us but only Chinese food. We accepted an offer of milk and got hot water with some of Nestle's best stirred in. However there were cigarettes interminably and a spice of hope.

It was good to hear English spoken again and we were three hours after our release from prison, discussing with an English speaking Chinese the merits of Macaulay's Life of Samuel Johnson and the virtues and knowledge of Benjamin Franklin.

The General's Apology.

We were introduced to a Mr. Wong whom we afterwards found to be General Wong, the chief of staff to the leader of the Whampoa Cadets, General Chang Kai-shek. During the evening he made an impassioned oration in Chinese in which he dramatically pounded his chest at one point and which the interpreter translated, stating that the General declared our lives were in his hands, that he would look after us, release us to Shameen officials and generally see that not a hair of our heads be injured.

He shook hands, departed, and we did not speak to him again. We also found later that our rescuer from the prison was the English speaking secretary to General Chang Kai-shek and the place where we were was the staff headquarters of the Whampoa Cadets, which incidentally means the Government.

Sleep for the Weary.

At 10 p.m. it was obvious that no one would arrive from Shameen and we were conducted to a room in which were two camp beds. Thoroughly weary we threw ourselves on them and slept soundly until daylight. Bowls of congee and tea was the sum total of the breakfast. Three hours afterwards not a soul who spoke English had arrived and we could learn nothing about what was proceeding. An armed cadet stood over us and we were not allowed to move alone.

We smoked interminable cigarettes in an open hall of some time facing the chief office in Yamen, in which sat General Wong, the chief of staff.

At 9 o'clock some Europeans appeared and hope ran high. But it was immediately obvious that they were Russian. They were received with great ceremony, the guard presenting arms and the visitors entering Wong's office unannounced. Speculation as to who they were was rife between us. The leader was a tall thin Russian who answered to a description we had been given of Borodin. He was followed by a woman and another dark thick set man.

From where I sat I had the man I believe to be Borodin under observation. He was treated with courtesy bordering on servility and after a great deal of talk—in Chinese—Borodin gesticulated and appeared to be giving out orders. His departure was as ceremonious as his arrival. Of what took place we only understood one word—Shameen—which cropped up frequently.

Two Bottles of Beer.

After the departure of these visitors time again hung heavily and at 11 o'clock we had been watching for the arrival of help for five hours. A Chinese soldier who spoke French fairly well had conversation with my friend and informed him that the populace believed they had us in their power and that at least we were to be retained at Headquarters for three weeks. This wasn't cheering particularly as the man offered to sell us such things as brushes because we had nothing but the filthy clothes we stood in.

However at precisely 11.28 a coolie appeared with a tray and although we had been told that it was impossible to get European food for us he produced a crust, knives and forks, bread and two large bottles of beer. Almost before we could get over our surprise and before we could taste that beer, even in imagination, Cox called out:

"Here's two Britishers"

I turned and through the door into the court yard stepped H. B. M's Vice-Consul, Mr. F. A. Wallis and Capt. Clements the Shamoon Chief of Police. I was too surprised to speak and they immediately entered the General Wong's office. Thirty minutes of suspense followed at the end of which they reappeared and Capt. Clements performed the introductions—"Mr. Wallace, Mr. Oliver," to which I replied, "Good morning, I'm happy to meet you," which called forth the pertinent remark "I expect you are."

A minute later General Wong was bowing us from his court yard, the guard presented arms and we emerged into the sun light and a waiting car bore us down the Bund to the Customs House from which place we got a boat and landed on that tight little island Shameen.

The luxury of a shave, a bath and clean clothes is better imagined than described and the proverbial hospitality of Shameen did much to put a rosier complexion on the trying experience of the last two days.

Later that night a naval pinnace put us on board the old Honam—two days late. We had had a rough time, narrowly escaped with our lives but were left with one consoling fact: We went to Canton for a story—we got it.

I suppose neither of us will forget the utter beastliness, the foul discomfort of seventeen hours in a Chinese prison bound in shackles.

On Shameen.

On Shameen we learned the story of our capture from that end. We were reported missing from the Honam on Friday morning and watch was kept for us all day. At 8 p.m. the letter from Chinese headquarters arrived but it was not known where we were. It was too late to do anything then but early next morning an official from the Chinese Foreign Office was called to the Customs. His office knew nothing of our capture but facilitated the task of finding us and needless to say two individuals are supremely grateful to the Consular Officials and to the fact that even in China British prestige stands so high.

THE TARIFF CONFERENCE.

BRITISH EXPERTS TO ATTEND.

Sir John Jordan Favours Shanghai as Meeting Place.

London, Sept. 5. It is understood that Sir Ronald Maclean is likely to depart from London to Peking shortly in order to resume his duties in connection with the conference on the Chinese customs, at which he will be supported by fiscal experts, one of whom, the Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent says, is of considerable professional eminence.

Sir John Jordan, in a letter to the Times, welcomes Mr. Kellogg's declaration of policy as regards China, but asks why the conference of the Powers on October 26 meets at Peking. He says the conference has a unique opportunity of appealing to all sections of the Chinese nation and therefore to achieve any prospect of success it must meet at Shanghai or some other neutral centre, where the provinces may take an active and untrammelled part in the negotiations.

The Times, in an editorial, says practical sympathy with the Chinese, collaboration with friends of law and order and adaptability to the changing conditions will give the keynote to British policy in China. Progress along the road to reform will be checked not by British reluctance but by Bolshevik intrigues and Chinese chaos. The fact that American policy accords with the British is shown by Mr. Kellogg's speech.

Resigns Appoints Special Committee.

Peking, Sept. 5.—The Cabinet decided to issue a mandate this evening appointing twelve members as a special committee connected with the Tariff Conference.

DROP THE ANTI-BRITISH AGITATION.

GOOD ADVICE FROM A CHINESE.

"British Are a Just People."

Peking, Sept. 5.—Tsai Ting-kun, in a letter to the Peking Leader, urges the dropping of the anti-British agitation and says, inter alia: "I have always maintained that the British are a just people. The joint resolution of the British Chamber of Commerce and the China Branch of the British Association of Shanghai is a splendid gesture, proving that the British will meet us more than half way."

Mr. Tsai Ting-kun quotes Mr. Chamberlain's reply to Mr. Chu's note concerning the "judicial enquiry." He says that with the joint resolution of the British at Shanghai and Mr. Chamberlain's replies, "We are justified in changing to a new front. With the coming of the conference before us, we should meet with a smile and a warm handshake."—Reuter.

United States Representative.

Manila, Sept. 5. Justice E. Finley Johnson of the Philippine Supreme Court, is expected to be appointed to represent the United States at the proposed International Commission of Judges to investigate the causes of the Shanghai riot on May 30th, according to a cable from the State Department to Governor General Wood.—Reuter.

CANTON'S LATEST.

The experience of the two Hong-kong journalists who went to Canton by the s.s. Honam on her first trip, as related by one of them elsewhere in this issue, leads one to wonder whether anything further is going to be done in the matter officially, or whether Britishers are going to accept this latest insult with nothing more than a regretful shrug of the shoulders. There may be a diversity of opinion regarding the wisdom or indiscretion of two Britishers going at a time like this into Canton City, but surely there can be no two opinions regarding the wrongfulness of the brutal treatment they received and of the culpability of the authorities in Canton in not exercising sufficient control over their subjects as to prevent such an outrage against the liberties and dignities of two foreign visitors. Let us forget for a moment the debatable point of wisdom on the part of the men concerned and whether zeal for their work clouded their better judgment, and keep in mind the fact that Britain is not at war with China, neither is Hongkong at war with Canton. Britishers have every right to go to Canton and they have every right to expect a reasonable measure of protection from the Chinese authorities in return for the right and privilege of complete protection enjoyed by peaceful Chinese visiting Hongkong or any other part of Britain. Messrs. Oliver and Cox were breaking no law by being on the Bund at Canton—they were perfectly peaceful visitors—and yet they can be arrested by Labour pickets, can be compelled to go through the streets in the midst of a yelling, murderous crowd, can be thrown into a filthy Chinese prison, can be shackled with heavy chains and submitted to personal indignities for hours, and then can be told afterwards by the head of the authorities that it was not officially known that they had been so treated and that it was the strikers' guards who had done this thing. With a suave apology, the two unfortunate men are handed over to British officials. Is that going to be the end of it? Is it not going to be somebody's business to insist on the punishment of those responsible for the arrest and ill-treatment? Is it going to be said on the street corners of Canton that when Britishers dare come off Shameen they can be all but lynched? Are these men in authority at Canton, these strike and boycott leaders who shriek about "unequal treaties"—treaties that give to Britishers the protection that probably saved Messrs. Oliver and Cox from a worse fate—going to be told officially that so long as lawlessness and mob violence can so jeopardise the lives of British visitors there will be not the slightest hope of treaty revision? Is the experience of these two men going to be just a lightly-dismissed incident of the 1925 strike?

The Canton government stands self-condemned as a government, when peaceful visitors can be so treated, when angry factional pickets can usurp the powers of the police and incarcerate foreigners for nearly two days. The talk about "unequal treaties" becomes farcical in the face of such unequal treatment, and the incident will further serve to demonstrate the utter wisdom of listening to any demand for the abolition of extra-territoriality.

What Canton Wants.

There is apparent at the moment a distinct anxiety on the part of the Canton Government to get the incidents arising out of the attack on Shameen, in June last, settled together with affairs occurring at other Treaty Ports, rather than that it should be dealt with separately. So much is evident from the report of a meeting convened by the Anti-Imperialist Union and held just over a week ago in the Canton University. At that gathering it was explained that the Political Department of the Kuomintang had decided to organise an "All-China Massacre Negotiation Commission" in Peking, to which Kwangtung is expected to send delegates. As is known, the recent shooting incidents in various parts of China are invariably referred to by the Canton Government as "massacres"—hence the title of this suggested Commission. The object in forming this Commission is said to be to settle all these incidents at one time, so as to oppose Britain's alleged policy, which is said to be separate settlements, negotiations with Peking instead of Canton over the Shameen affair, and early adjustment of the Shanghai and Hankow incidents "so as to use military force against the Canton Government." The Kuomintang, according to speakers at the meeting referred to, also aspire to control the Treaty Revision Conference in Peking, whilst amongst the matter to be "settled" by this new Commission is the question of Liao Chung-kai's recent assassination. How this latter subject comes into purview of the proposed investigations we cannot imagine. The main point which is suggested by the Kuomintang scheme is that Canton wants to get all the recent incidents settled by a body nominally and controlled by itself; it obviously shrinks from having the Shameen affair separately adjusted through the correct diplomatic channels, preferring to complicate the issues by making it part and parcel of other incidents to which it bears no relation whatsoever.

A Regimental Novices Boxing Competition commences at Murray Barracks at 7.30 p.m. to-night and continues each night until finished.

Messrs. Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Minister to China, and Eki Hioki, former Ambassador to Germany, have been appointed Japan's delegates to the Chinese customs conference in Peking on October 26.

Mrs. Eileen P. Pomroy was last week granted a divorce in the United States Court, Shanghai, on the grounds of her husband's desertion. The latter, Harold C. Pomroy, filed no reply, and it was stated that he was at present in the United States.

The Kuomintang Club in Peking has issued a strongly worded manifesto, calling on the members of the original party and all true-minded patriots to rid Canton of the Communists. "The existence or death of both the people of Kwangtung and the party itself depends on this stroke," says the pronouncement.

We imagine, however, that the Kuomintang scheme will not work out just as planned. All the same, it is interesting to take note of the development.

Britain and the League.

Were it not for the fact that we are more or less immersed in thoughts of the important and immediate happenings in South China we should be giving much more attention to the undoubtedly important meeting of the Council of the League of Nations which is now taking place at Geneva and to the meeting of the Assembly of the League which is to take place later in the month. At so great a distance we are liable to let pass such a gathering as though it was no concern of ours, but it should always be remembered that Britain is pledged to the support of the League; accepts its decisions as binding and entrusts into its hands many important matters affecting the welfare of different parts of the Empire. On the question of opium (in which Hongkong is vitally interested) the League will yet have a decisive say. One is glad to notice that the British delegation to the Assembly this year is an exceptionally strong one, consisting as it does of Mr. Austen Chamberlain, Lord Cecil, Sir George Grahame, the Duchess of Atholl, Mr. A. M. Samuel and Sir Cecil Hurst. This strikes us as an admirable selection. It is certainly right that the delegation should be headed by the Foreign Secretary, for he alone can speak with full authority on international questions. The choice of Lord Cecil as second delegate is no less desirable. There is no man who possesses a closer knowledge of the League's work, or a finer influence in its councils than he; and his absence, for the first time since the League was founded, was in the opinion of many one of the disasters of last year's Assembly. The delegation should indeed create a very different impression from that of last year. The more one hears of Lord Parmoor's evolutions when he was left in charge at Geneva, the more astonishing they appear, says a Home Journal. His appointment was probably the greatest blunder of the MacDonald regime; and those who know most about its results do not hesitate to describe it as a crime. At this year's Assembly Britain will at least be represented by men with a thorough grip of the questions at issue.

CHINA'S TROUBLES.

BOLSHEVISM THE MAIN CAUSE.

BLASPHEMOUS ANTI-CHRISTIAN POSTERS.

In the course of a circular letter to friends at Home, on the present situation in China, Mr. E. E. Strother, general secretary of the China Christian Endeavour, writing from Shanghai under date of August 21st, says:—
Inasmuch as there are great differences of opinion among missionaries and others here in China as to the underlying causes of these troubles and the forces back of the present outbreak, also the best methods of dealing with same, it is not to be wondered at that such conflicting reports are being published in the newspapers in the home-lands.

It is not our purpose to go into the questions of politics or diplomacy in this letter, but to write of the spiritual aspect of things, especially with a view of helping friends to pray more intelligently and definitely on behalf of the Lord's work in this land. If what we write seems alarming or pessimistic, it is only because we feel that you should know the seriousness of the situation, as it appears to us and others who are living here in the midst of the troubles. Although some people, especially young and inexperienced workers, speak lightly of this outbreak as "a little mid-summer madness on the part of some Chinese school boys," most of the older men who have gone through the Boxer trouble and various other anti-foreign movements, during the past forty or fifty years, say this present trouble is the most serious, the most deep rooted and the most widespread movement of this kind ever experienced in China.

In order to rightly estimate the significance of the China situation, it is necessary to realize that Bolshevism is at the root of the matter and that the Bolsheviks not only aim at the overthrow of all law and order, but that they are bitterly anti-Christian, aiming at the destruction of the Church and of the Home and all Christian standards of society. We fear that many people in the home-lands, as well as thousands of Chinese students out here, have been deceived by the propaganda of the Bolsheviks as to the real meaning and purposes of Bolshevism. The key to the Bolshevik Movement was revealed in a picture which was issued on the front page of an organ of the Bolsheviks, portraying a Russian workman with a hammer rolled up, and holding a huge hammer, at the foot of a ladder which he was about to ascend; and underneath was printed, "I have already smashed our earthly thrones. I am going up to shatter the throne of God."

It should be clearly understood that the present movement is primarily anti-Christian, and that the Bolsheviks desire to stop all missionary work and to drive all missionaries out of China. A remarkable document emanating from the Educational Associations of Kiangsu, Chokiang and Hupeh provinces, declares that the missionaries are the agents of the foreign imperialists and capitalists and that because they have penetrated into China's interior cities, where their schools are the centres for the distribution of the poisonous preachings and teachings of Christianity, China has suffered one national disgrace after another. By putting an end to the poisonous foreign mission institutions, the influence of foreign imperialism may be brought to an end in China is the declaration of these Chinese Educationists. It is evident that they have been well taught by their Russian leaders, one of whom (Zinovieff, an apostate Jew, one of the master minds among the Bolsheviks), has said, "We will grapple with the Lord God in due season. We will vanquish Him in His highest Heaven, and wherefore He seeks refuge; and we shall subdue Him forever." Even the little children in Russia are being taught by their school teachers to blaspheme God Almighty, a missionary of the China Inland Mission having received a letter from her family in Russia, telling how the children of a neighbour explained that on a certain day each week their teacher placed on the wall a picture of an old man with a long beard, representing God, and then told the pupils to shake their fists at Him and spit at Him. The Christmas number of Izvestia, a government organ, reports the organization of a Children's Communist League which already embraces 1,000,000 members, and another 5,000,000

"Sophocles" Returns to Port.
Cape Town, Sept. 6.

The owners of the "Sophocles" decided on an experiment to test the strength of the men's feeling. They ordered the vessel to depart, but the "Sophocles" returned shortly afterwards in consequence of the crew intimating their sympathy with the strikers. Two thousand passengers for Australia are held up in Cape Town. Minister Creswell meets a delegation of strikers to-morrow.—Reuter.

children, pupils in elementary schools, are being drawn into the movement. "We, the young godless ones," writes one of these Leagues, the Khamovinn club in Moscow, "are waging active war against our religious parents. We will climb up into heaven and sweep away the gods."
Posters have been put up on the walls of cities in inland China with such sentiments as the following in Chinese, "Down with Government! Down with Christianity! Down with Confucianism and all other Religions! Down with the Home," etc. "Blasphemous posters against our Lord Jesus Christ have also been pasted on the walls of buildings in the Chinese city of Shanghai."

It is as painful to write such things as it will be for friends to read them, but without a knowledge of these facts it is impossible to understand the seriousness of this situation, and especially the spiritual significance of the movement, which is really world-wide in its scope, although it seems to be centring in China just now.

LEAGUE BASEBALL.

VOLUNTEERS RATTLE ANGELES.

[BY "WANDERER."]

Rattling out four runs in a spicy first inning, the Filipino Baseball Club threatened to spill their losing streak when opposed to the Volunteers at Happy Valley on Saturday. They lacked in reserve punch, however, and the Eager outburst gained a well-deserved victory by eleven runs to six.

The Filipinos played one man short throughout, but put up a good show in the field. Replying to the auspicious Filipino start, the Volunteers took toll of Angeles pitching and their inning closed with a lead of one run. Eager, Stewart, Bowker, Burns and Mackenzie having crossed the plate.

Curtis proceeded to pitch a splendid no-hit game through four successive innings, and it was not until the concluding stages that the Filipinos showed signs of having measured his distance. Then Angeles and Sanchez reached home, the side being put out with two men on bases.

In the meantime, the Volunteers had been rattling Angeles, though twice third man was put out with the bases full. In the third, Owen Hughes, Bowker and Stewart scored; Burns and Mackenzie added in the fourth and Curtis put on the eleventh in the sixth frame.

Bowker hit a triple, W. Mackenzie, Ramsey, Stewart, Burns, and Curtis were credited with two baggers, while, for the Filipinos, Francisco hit a two-bagger and G. Sanchez scored the only home run of the match.

Curtis has developed into a pitcher of real merit and the holding of the Volunteers improves in every game.

The Filipinos were not favoured with the best of luck, but on the day's play they were the poorer side.

The Hongkong team forfeited the points to South China in the game which was scheduled to follow.

It is reported from Canton that of the eleven prominent persons recently arrested in connection with the assassination of Liao Chung-kai that three have been shot—namely, Mr. Lam Chik-min, formerly managing director of the Yueh-Han Railway; Chiu Kwai-chang, commander of the river squadron; and Leung Shing-fung, a military officer.

To-day's weather report states that a weak anticyclone is situated to the east of Japan, the typhoon is passing to the south-east of Korea, and depressions are situated over the north eastern part of the China Sea and to the south-east of the Bonins. The forecast until noon to-morrow is:—N. or variable winds, moderate; fine.

The arrival at Victoria, B.C., on July 9th, of four hundred fur seal pelts, representing the last of the Vancouver Island west coast catch, brings the total for the season up to 4,000. This is the greatest catch made by the west coast Indians in the last twenty years.

The Senior Sub-Judge of Lyalpur, Kikja Abdul Samad, is being prosecuted by the Punjab Government for taking bribes and for having borrowed large sums of money from well-known bankers and wealthy merchants, contrary to the Government Servants' Conduct Rules, and for oppression and wilful breach in the discharge of his duty by passing orders prejudicial to clients who refused him loans.

THE BOYCOTT.

CANNOT BRITAIN DO SOMETHING?

In the course of an article headed "What of China?" and in the course of which there appears the comment: "Distance is an excuse for the kind of determined optimism that may or may not be warranted by the facts," the Times of August 14th states:—

Whatever else happens in China—whether there be violence in districts near the coast or in the far interior, whether British nationals are treated with open insult or concealed contempt—the boycott in itself means daily loss and a daily decline in prestige. It is a negative policy. It does not help China or remedy the ills from which she is suffering. It injures many Chinese as well as ourselves, and it injures some other foreign nations. It causes disturbances and defections in the internal trade of China. Yet for the present it is being maintained to our very great disadvantage. It is maintained by an idea or an obsession, and the definite object of British policy should be to dispel that obsession by all possible means. What means are there? Adequate steps must be taken, and perhaps are being taken, to ensure the safety of British nationals. For the moment the danger to the lives of individuals does not appear to be so acute. But, what then? Intervention by force is naturally out of the question. How is it possible to deal with the psychological aberration which makes Chinese masses seek in hostility to us a refuge from unending internal confusion? Bolshevik organizations have taken advantage of this movement and stimulate it wherever possible, especially in Canton, where a strongly pro-Soviet group has secured control. But the movement is not specially Bolshevik. It is something more extensive, more genuinely Chinese. It is a Chinese state of mind that has to be seriously approached and treated both with wisdom and vigour. Before anything else can be done a grave misunderstanding has to be dissipated. The absurd idea that Great Britain is hostile to China or has any subtle or foolish designs against Chinese integrity, independence, freedom, national rights—or whatever phrase may be used to express the growing national sentiment of a great population—must be scattered to the winds.

Is no opportunity whatever left for an expression of distinctly British initiative? When the attack is being made mainly upon us, must our response be anonymous, colourless, entirely toned down to legal precedent and the obscure processes of international agreement? Is there really nothing that we can do on our account? Can British personality not express itself with authority in the present vicissitudes of the Chinese struggle?

What is urgently necessary at this moment is that the British Government should send out, simply to investigate and to report, a very competent expert on Chinese affairs who, by his reputation and authority, might at once exert a direct influence and would at any rate show by his presence the direct and exceptional interest of Great Britain in the present unhappy state of a great country.

SWIMMING FETE.

EXCELLENT SPORT AT THE V.R.C.

Volunteers Beat H.M.S. Hermes.

The first night fete of the season was held at the V.R.C. on Saturday evening and was highly successful, both from the point of view of the sport provided and the attendance, which was perhaps heavier than has yet been registered for similar meetings. The Lyric Band provided music during the intervals between events, and subsequently for dancing at the conclusion of the aquatic display.

On the conclusion of the meeting, the prizes were presented by Mrs. E. J. R. Mitchell, and Mr. R. C. Wiltchell, the Secretary of the V.R.C., in tendering a vote of thanks for her attendance, commented on the high class of sport that had been provided and suggested that on a future occasion, a team race might be staged between the men of the Hermes, who had put up such a good show in the polo match, and the Volunteers. The suggestion was received with acclamation. Detailed results were as follows:

FERRY EXCITEMENT.

CHINESE YOUTH JUMPS INTO HARBOUR.

There was considerable excitement aboard the 9.30 ferry proceeding from Hongkong to Kowloon yesterday morning when a Chinese youth jumped overboard from the steerage deck. Lifelines were immediately thrown overboard, and two members of the crew of the ferry boat immediately plunged in, swam out to the youth and managed to bring him back to safety.

The incident occurred about 100 yards from the wharf on the Hongkong side. A large number of people crowded on to the wharf and watched the rescue proceedings with interest. Several junks and sampans in the vicinity also made their way to the scene with the view to assisting.

The two members of the ferry crew, however, succeeded in reaching the unfortunate youth first and effected a timely rescue. But for their prompt and praiseworthy action he would probably have been drowned.

WEDDING.

WADMORE-HICKLIN.

A very pretty wedding took place at the St. John's Cathedral on Saturday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. Alfred John Wadmore, of the Public Works Department, and son of the late Mr. Mark Wadmore of Wroxall, and Miss Clara Hicklin, daughter of Mr. Charles Hicklin of Manchester. The Rev. T.B. Powell, officiated, and Mr. Mason, at the organ, played the well-known hymn "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden."

The bride was given away by Mr. A.E. Wright, of the P.W.D. and the Misses L. Grimes and H. Taylor, acted as bridesmaids. The matron of honour was Mrs. W. Pryde and Mr. J.F.W. Pincock performed the duties of "best man."

A reception was held at the Wiseman's Cafe, where a few friends were entertained prior to Mr. and Mrs. Wadmore's departure for Roppon Bay, where the honeymoon is being spent.

There was a clean bill of health over the week-end.

The Far Eastern Review for June-July is a special production, profusely illustrated, and devoted to the reconstruction of Japan. The fine work put in by the Japanese engineers is fittingly set forth in the various articles, and there is a great deal touching industrial progress in Nippon in general. This number of the Review is a credit to the producers and publishers alike.

According to a report from a certain quarter it is stated that it has been decided to send an expeditionary force to attack the Communists in Canton and the fund for the military operation will be raised to the amount of $1,000,000 by having the surplus of the Customs revenue as its security, and this is now being negotiated with the Inspector-General of the Maritime Customs, says a Tientsin message of the Eastern News Agency.

Philadelphia's Sesqui-Centennial Exposition.

One of the outstanding architectural features of the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition to be held in Philadelphia will be the Art Museum. Above is shown the architects' final drawing of the building. The exposition is in commemoration of 150 years of American independence and is scheduled to open June 1, 1926. Much of the construction for the event is now in progress and it is expected to be the greatest "world's fair" ever projected.

THE LATE MR. HO CHEUK.

SATURDAY'S IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL.

Representative Attendance.

The remains of the late Mr. Ho Cheuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ho Fook, and formerly in the comprador department of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, were laid to rest on Saturday afternoon at the Mount Davis Cemetery. The cortege, which left the house of the deceased, No. 5, Macdonnell Road, at 2 p.m., was preceded by the band of the East Surrey Regiment, and was followed by the various units of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade, and Chinese members of the Police Force. The attendance included practically every Chinese merchant in the Colony and numbered well over a thousand.

According to the native rites the procession halted at the University Ground, where the last respects were paid to the deceased. Among the large attendance, were noticed the following:

Hon. Mr. Chow Shou-son, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Mr. A. G. M. Fletcher, Professor C. A. Middleton (Chief Manager, H. K. S. Bank), Mr. H. R. B. Hancock, Mr. J. P. Braga, Mr. H. A. Lamert, Mr. E. Ralphs, Mr. B. Tanner, Mr. R. L. Moncrieff, Mr. Li Po-Kwai, Mr. M. K. Lo, Dr. Wan Man-kai, Dr. Kwan-Sum-yin, Mr. Wong Kam-fuk, and many others.

LAWN TENNIS.

THE DAVIS CUP.

New York, Sept. 5.—The results of both Davis Cup singles were unexpected. Lacoste, who is France's main hope, was helpless in face of Patterson's cannonading, while Borotra, usually less dependable, rose to the occasion and gave a brilliant display. Anderson never struck his real form and finally succumbed to Borotra's greater steadiness and agility. Patterson varied his tactics and overwhelmed Lacoste whose defeat is deemed a serious French setback.—Reuter's American Service.

The Doubles.

New York, Sept. 5.—In the Davis Cup doubles Borotra and Lacoste beat Hawkes and Patterson 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, 1-6, 10-8. Patterson's dynamic service was again a feature of the play, though the Frenchmen fought desperately, especially Borotra, who placed brilliantly. Patterson standing at the net in the fourth set accidentally drove a ball into Borotra's face, flooring the Frenchman, who, however, was not seriously injured and soon resumed.—Reuter's American Service.

A CHINESE SIDELIGHT.

Educational Storm At Peking.

Peking, Aug. 23.—The radical elements are striving to disrupt national education in Peking and to further that policy a "demonstration for the restoration of education" is to be held in the near future, the date to be set later.

Following the summary action of the Minister of Education in forcibly ejecting the students from the premises of the former Women's Normal University, which had been closed by order of the Cabinet, a meeting was held yesterday by the Educational Association at Poi Chang Chieh and a series of inflammatory resolutions passed against Government officials.

At this meeting it was proposed that legal action be instituted against the Minister of Education, Mr. S. C. Chang, and against Mr. Tai Hsiu-tan, Chief Procurator, by nine students of the Women's Normal University, the thirteen boys students arrested last week for rowdiness and by representatives of schools and public bodies. The parents of the girls who were ejected last Saturday are also included in the list of would-be accusers.

The charges to be made against the Minister and the Chief Procurator are unjustifiable insult and arrest.

HER BLOOD WAS SO THIN SHE FELT COLD ALL THE TIME.

Until Weight and Strength Were Restored By Tonic Treatment

With

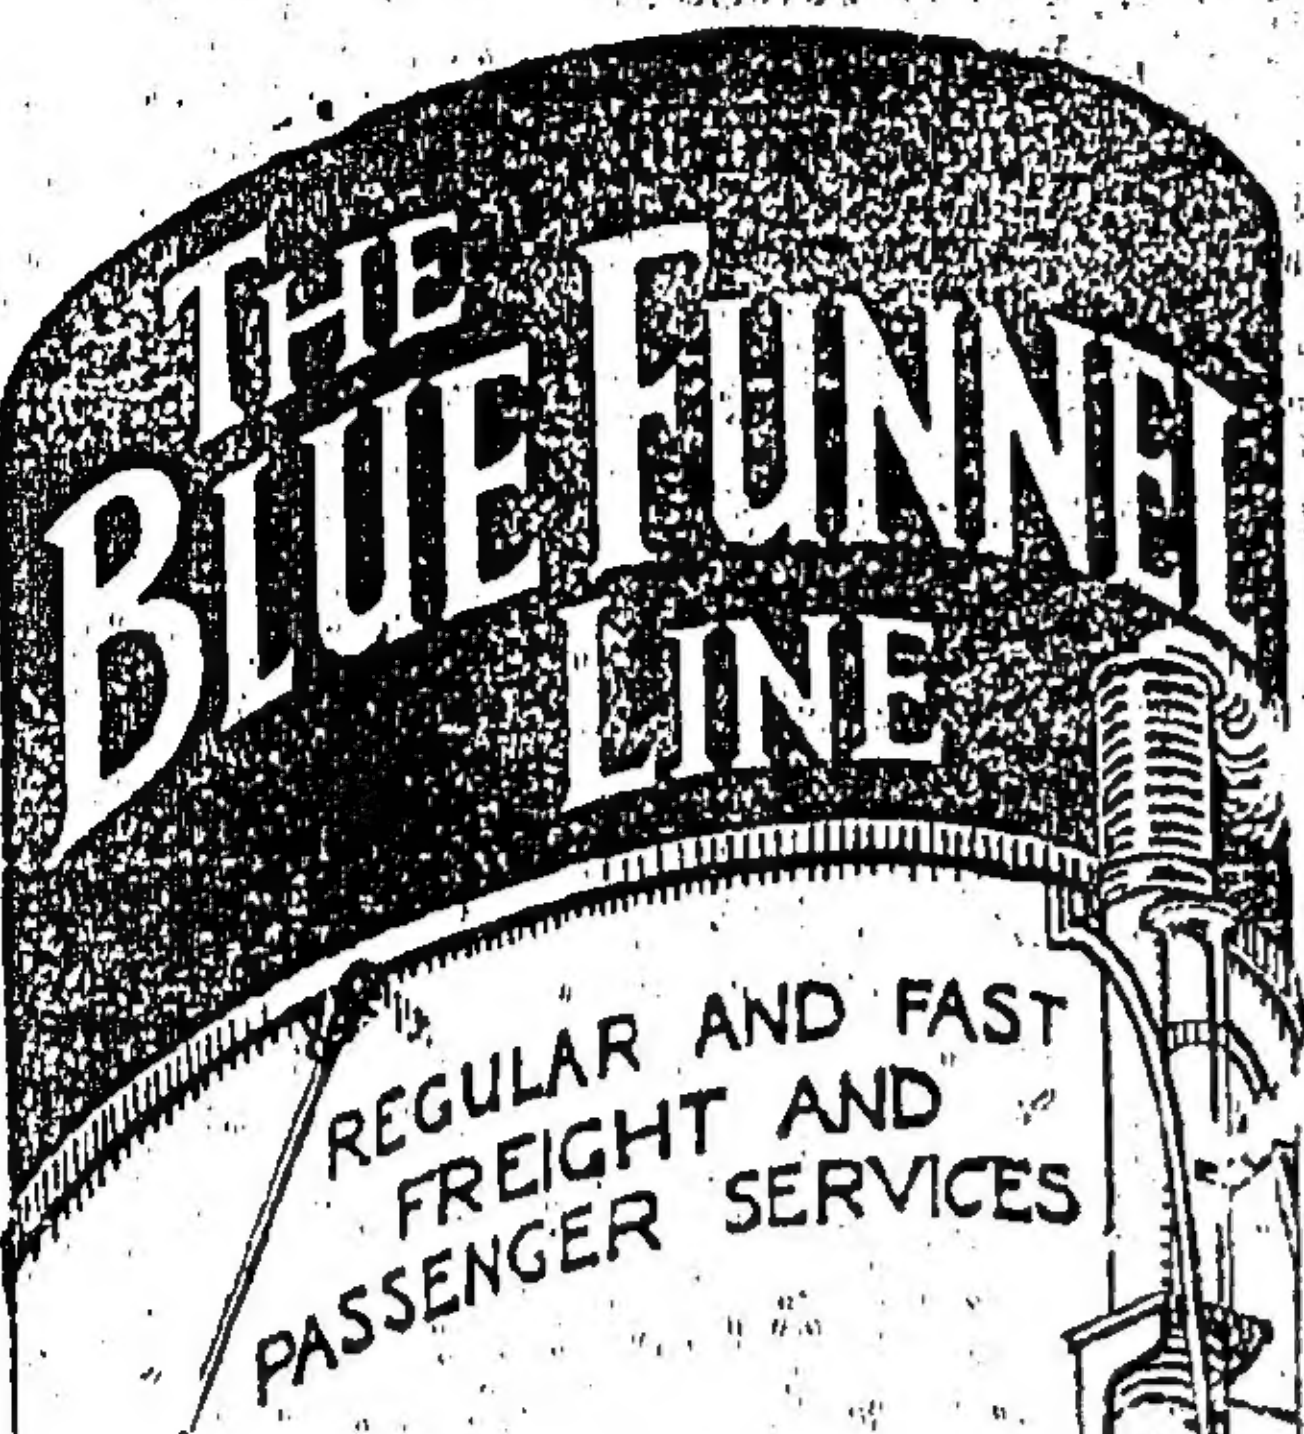

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

For well over five-and-thirty years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People have been a trusted household remedy for anaemia or bloodlessness, and the disorders arising therefrom. Here is evidence of their unique efficacy, recently given by Mrs. B. L. Small, of 305, Perry Street, Buffalo, U.S.A.

"My blood was so thin that I felt frozen all the time," says Mrs. Small. "I had headaches which would last for days. I did not rest well at night, was extremely nervous and was easily excited. I lost weight, had no colour or appetite and suffered from cramps in my limbs.

"After taking other treatment without much benefit, I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and soon I commenced to have a better appetite and got more colour. My circulation improved and the cramps grew less frequent. I gained in weight and strength and improved in every way. The headaches

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

THE SHENANDOAH DISASTER.

Washington, September 5.
Mr. Wilbur declares that it is purely a budget question whether another dirigible will be built to replace the Shenandoah. The disaster would not deter the Navy Department pursuing its lighter than air programme.—Reuter's American Service.

Swampscott, September 5.
President Coolidge has expressed the assumption that the Navy Department would want to replace the Shenandoah by another dirigible usable for military purposes. He was of the opinion that the loss of an airship did not differ from the loss of a warship, which invariably resulted in plans for replacement.—Reuter's American Service.

Caldwell, Ohio, September 5.
The barograph and records of the Shenandoah, which the Navy Department officials expected would aid them in determining the cause of the disaster, were found here in the possession of souvenir hunters.—Reuter's American Service.

OPERATIONS IN MOROCCO.

Paris, September 5.
A message from Fez says that French and Spanish squadrons and air forces have been bombarding Alhucemas for the past three days, but there is nothing to indicate a landing has been effected. There has been no action on the French Northern front indicating a beginning of the Franco-Spanish offensive yet.—Reuter.

Madrid, September 5.
A communique from Morocco states that fighting is general all day long on the western front in the Tetuan sector and is especially fierce in Benihasmar Massif. The enemy pressed their attacks with the greatest determination. Troops destined for our main operations are concentrated along the front.

Paris, September 6.
Despatches from Fez tell of enemy activity increasing on both fronts. The Garrison at Ainmaluf has been relieved. An American air squadron co-operated in the effective bombardment of Sheshuan.—Reuter.

MISSING SEAPLANE.

San Francisco, September 5.
It is stated that the warships returning from the Australian cruise are searching for the missing seaplane.

A wireless from the steamer Whippoorwill reports that white flares were seen in Kauai Channel.

St. Augustine, Florida, September 5.
A local wireless, amateur is reported to have picked up a message sent out by an American warship four hundred miles from Samoa Islands announcing that the missing seaplane was found and all the crew are safe.

A message from Washington a Navy says the Department has not received information confirming the foregoing.—Reuter's American Service.

THE SECURITY PACT.

London, September 5.
The Allied and German jurists who have been meeting at the Foreign Office during the past week in connection with the Security Pact have completed their labours and will leave London to-day to report to their respective Governments. It is expected that the Allied and German foreign ministers will meet a fortnight hence, probably at Switzerland.—Reuter.

Geneva, September 5.
The British French and Belgian foreign ministers met last evening and discussed the procedure relating to a prospective conference of Allied foreign ministers on the Security Pact, to which the German foreign minister will be invited. Reuter understands that Signor Mussolini expressed his desire to attend and proposes Rome as the venue.—Reuter.

THE SHIPPING STRIKE.

London, September 5.
The strikers at Southampton failed to prevent the departure to-day of four liners, including the Cunard liner Berengaria, which sailed on schedule time, fully manned, including ninety-seven per cent of the original crew.—Reuter.

LAWN BOWLS.

POLICE CHAMPIONS OF SECOND DIVISION.

Comfortable Victory Against Kowloon.

The Police played their last match of the season in the second division of the Lawn Bowls League on Saturday when they paid a visit to Kowloon and easily defeated the Cricket Club. From the very first, there was little doubt as to the result, and the further the match went the greater became the margin between the two, the Police eventually winning by 30 points. It was a pleasant and well-contested game, nevertheless. The Police won on all three rinks, scoring 71 points against their opponents 41.

Taikoo have still two matches to play, but even if they win both, they will be unable to catch up with the Police, who will even then have a clear lead of two points. The Police will displace the Kowloon Cricket Club in the first division of the League next season.

Details of Saturday's match follows:

K.C.C.	Police
P. Robson	E. G. Post
W. J. F. Gorvin	L. R. Whant
